Town sending letter for precursory investigation

BY MADISON SAMUEL-
BARCLAY
Review Staff

A special town council meeting was called on April 30 to address the new petition of inquiry circulating in the community, a meeting that became very heated as council opened the floor for public comments and questions. Council wanted to address residents' concerns and learn what they wanted to know or needed clarification on in regards to the Shantz Crossing Business Park project, the 2012 budget, and other information that some wanted addressed.

The decision to move forward with Shantz was made after a five-to-two vote at the April 24 regular council meeting, much to the dissatisfaction of many residents including Rick Lavigne, who had spearheaded the new petition to request municipal affairs do an investigation of the town and administration.

Council seemed fine with this new petition, however, even going as far as to motion to send a letter to municipal affairs to have a precursory investigation done.

"We don't have a problem bringing in an auditor to look over things as well," said Mayor Brian Wittal at the meeting.

Tempers began to flare between residents and council as the floor continued to voice concerns about the lack of roadwork being done, the risk of Shantz and concern over its debt, and other off-topic issues in the community. One resident flat-out told council that they were "PO'd" about the fact that their taxes had gone up every single year since they had moved to Didsbury.

"There are five people on council who the town are not happy with," said resident Ric Wohlgmuth. "I don't think you voted with conscience."

"We thank everybody for their openness and willingness to share their views," said Coun. Lavar Adams. "We debate all motions with the best information we have available to us. How do we know what the voice of the town is if we don't hear from individuals like you? We all have a passion to watch the town grow and be all it can be."

Discussion between residents and councillors settled to talk about ways council could simplify information about Shantz, the town debt levels and servicing and bud-et figures to help keep correct information openly circulating to any and all residents who wanted to learn it.

While all this information is available on the town website, some individuals voiced that there was still confusion when reviewing the complicated accounting figures.

"As we go down the road, we will give updates, but for now it's public information that can be shared with anybody, and if there is a group who would like a formal presentation, we can do that," said Wittal after the meeting.

"We assume the information is out... Until just a few weeks ago there was no concern around the debt levels and debt servicing, and people question it, and some don't understand."

"Accounting is complicated," added Wittal. "We could put it to basic math, chequebook-style, but that would take a lot of time, and before, if people weren't asking [for that], why do it? We need clarification on what we need to clarify, and we got that last night."

Council will be meeting for a retreat this fall to discuss plans moving forward into 2013, outlining priorities and budget strategies for the new year. "This fall, prior to the retreat, we want to try to get residents to give feedback at that time so we can try to build the budget around that, and see how it works," said Wittal.

"We try to get more people engaged, and would love to see more engagement like this. The more voices that we hear, the easier it is for us to make decisions. The more people we hear from, it helps council know we are making a decision based on what residents are saying."

However, in the case of Shantz, which has been years in the making and moving forward, resident feedback may have come a bit too late. While a petition on appealing the directional signage the town had wanted to start was accepted by council to postpone the project, holding off on Shantz is not a move Wittal sees as beneficial, and he has said so at past meetings.

"Once the wheels get rolling on some things, you can't stop, and that makes people frustrated, but I appreciate and understand that," said Wittal.

Miki Town holds future benefits

BY MADISON SAMUEL-BARCLAY
Didsbury Staff

A recurring topic some residents have been bringing up at several past discussions and meetings with the town is the concern over the Japan twinning project that the Town of Didsbury is currently involved in with Miki Town.

However, according to Mayor Brian Wittal, the twinning has gone "beyond" successful student exchanges, and poses as a beneficial, long-term opportunity for the town.

One project with Miki Town that has been in the works since 2008 is the Les Gants fashion gloves, which are now in the works to be distributed in North America, with Didsbury making roughly $300,000 (300,000 yen) for three years in royalties.

Part of these funds could be used towards paying for expenses for future trips, Wittal said.

"We're talking with parents of students on the exchange to start up a group organization as well," said Wittal in regards to other fundraising efforts for the twinning trips.

Didsbury will also be playing host to the Alberta-Japan twinning conference next year with between 40 and 50 community representatives in attendance.

The town will be inviting some individuals from Miki Town for the conference as well, including the mayor, CEO of Les Gants Tadashin Sunagawa and Miki Town's economic development committee.

"It's gone past the twinning," said Wittal about working on prospective economic opportunities with Miki Town. "We want to show them what is happening in Central Alberta, and take them to individual businesses. We want to give them some good insight about what's in the area. It may be a fit for them as investors."

Wittal was adamant that part of why the town is continuing with the twinning program is because of the benefits it potentially has for Didsbury.

"There's great potential opportunity there. Some criticize that we should stay closer to home," said Wittal. "There's future opportunity here. We believe there is potential in the long term and that it's worth it, especially if we can get this glove program going."

"When they come to you and suggest economic opportunities, how do you say no?" added Wittal. "The relationship is there with them and they are willing to talk business. I certainly see what residents are saying, they see it as a holiday for us, but it is strictly business."

Highway sign looking for more logos

BY MADISON
SAMUEL-BARCLAY
Review Staff

Some investigation and possible additions to the Didsbury highway sign have gotten underway.

The sign, which changed over to the blue, North American-standard design from the original brown style in 2006, has long only advertised Tanas Concrete as a business Didsbury had to offer to those driving past.

Community Planning Officer Lesley Bannister is looking to see some other local businesses displayed to drivers as well.

The highway sign itself, however, is not a town project, but was implemented by Alberta Transportation and Travel Alberta, and delegated to Guide Signs Industries.

The purpose of the sign was to promote tourism and business sites to the 50,000 drivers who use the highway on a daily basis. However, when the call for applications went out after the new sign's implementation, only one business was later posted.

"This came to my attention and I was curious," said Bannister, who began looking into the signage in the summer of 2011. "I come from a tourism background, one of my passions is getting Didsbury more tourism friendly, and signage would be a great starting point."

Since then, Bannister has re-contacted local businesses who may have come after the sign's installation and dropped off handwritten notices.

Guide Signs Industries takes applications for the sign for a fee of $2,250 for a five-year term. The fee includes installation and the logo used on the sign.

A sign holds up to nine logos, allowing up to 18 advertising slots for the two signs planned for Didsbury. Applications are accepted on a first-come, first-served basis however.

It then takes two months to get a logo made and put up. In a situation where there are four or more businesses posted of the same field (gas and food, for example), another separate sign for that field can be put up for no extra cost.

As of now, two other businesses, WestCan and Golden River, have submitted their applications to be on the sign.

"It can be challenging for businesses in Didsbury because they're asking for a logo, and so many businesses are owner-operated, and not with a strong brand presence," said Bannister. "It's a challenge worth it for the amount of exposure, though."

"Didsbury has enormous potential, we have phenomenal businesses here," added Bannister. "I would love to see signs of our local businesses up there. It's a pretty awesome program. The cost for a billboard that lasts for a few weeks is in the high thousands, but this is opportunity for a logo on a sign for five years for less. It gets drivers to make the six-kilometre trek, and makes the community look big and vibrant."

Pay-by-donation book sale supports library

SAMUEL-BARCLAY
Review Staff

The Friends of the Didsbury Library will be putting on their second yearly book sale on May 11 and 12 in support of the Didsbury library.

The sale, which will take place in the lawn bowling basement down the street from the Didsbury Curling Club, will be held from noon to 7 p.m. on May 11 and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on May 12.

"We're not selling the books. People come and take the books and make a donation," said Judy Towell, one of the organizers for the sale.

All donations will be going to the Didsbury Municipal Library.

The donation-as-payment method was implemented two years ago, and Towell says it has been a very effective method that allows the group to apply for grants, and helps to cut down on the manpower needed to individually price every single book.

Book genres will range from fiction, non-fiction, children's books, travel and more. Fiction books will be organized alphabetically by author and non-fiction by topic.

There will also be a "staff picks" table with recommendations by those running the sale.

"That way people can come right in and find what they want," said Towell.

All books were either donated for the sale or are no longer in use by the library.

"It gives people the chance to find collector's items, and books people haven't been able to find," said Towell. "It's a lot of fun for us and we hope the patrons are having fun too."

Gang recruitment must be made criminal

DAN SINGLETON

While some recent moves by the Harper Tories have been anything but universally applauded, last week's announcement that the government plans to make life much tougher for people who recruit for criminal gangs is welcome news.

Justice Minister Rob Nicholson said the government will introduce new legislation that will make it a criminal offence to recruit or otherwise encourage anyone to join a criminal organization, including gangs.

"Making gang recruitment a stand-alone Criminal Code offence sends a clear message that this behaviour will not be tolerated," Nicholson said.

Anyone found guilty under the new legislation could face up to five years in prison. As well, if the person is convicted of recruiting someone under 18 years of age, there will also be a mandatory minimum sentence of six months in jail.

Whether it's big cities or small towns, the insidious reach of gangs remains a threat to the stability and safety of communities across Canada, harming legitimate business activity and placing great pressure on law enforcement.

And for those successfully recruited into criminal gangs, the long-term impact can be devastating and life changing.

Make no mistake, while small towns and villages don't usually see gang members operating openly, as they sometimes do in the bigger centres, the impact of organized criminal gangs is certainly felt here.

The hard truth is whether it's drug dealing, fencing of stolen property, criminal harassment or other organized illegal activities, criminal gangs continue to carry out their unlawful business with vigor and great resilience.

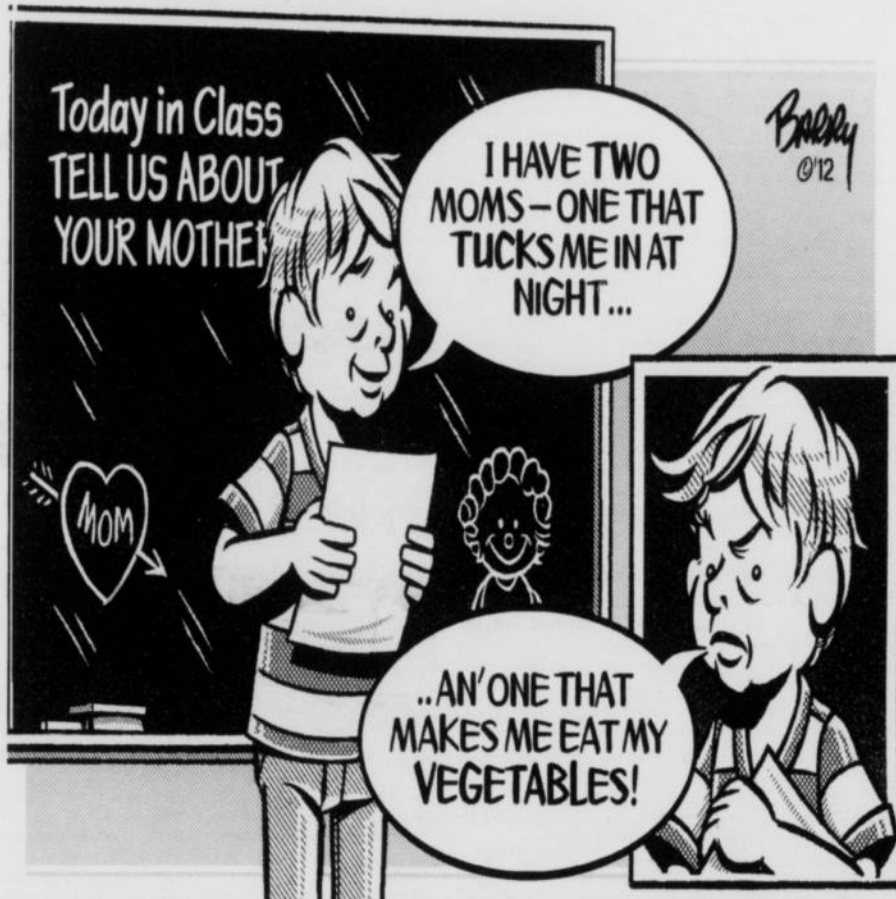

Conservative MP Parm Gill has put forward Bill C-394, the Criminal Organized Recruitment Act, in an effort to stop gang recruitment at the source, stemming the flow of new members that make the illegal activities possible.

"Gangs today are targeting our most vulnerable citizens, including youth under the age of 12, and as young as eight years old," Gill said. "Gangs across this nation are becoming more aggressive and bolder in the ways that they recruit potential members."

If passed, this new legislation will close a very troubling loophole in the current law. And if, in the end, the new law is successful in deterring gang members and others from targeting and recruiting young people and adults into gangs, then it will be good news for everyone, including residents of West Central Alberta.

RCMP and other enforcement agencies spend a great deal of time and effort fighting organized crime. While many of those efforts are successful, making it illegal to bring new members into gangs would give police another useful tool for their arsenal.

As such, MPs of all parties should be encouraged to work together to ensure this new legislation becomes law without delay.

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY, MOM - TO BOTH OF YOU!

Letter to the editor Upset with Shantz motion

Last Monday, about 20 other residents and I attended a special meeting of mayor, council and town officials to discuss the petition being circulated calling for a Government of Alberta audit of the Town of Didsbury.

Residents demanded answers, but to no avail. If you have been away or missed last week's Didsbury Review you can go online and read the story on the front page. With two highly respected developers cautioning against the Shantz Crossing project, and offering alternatives to moving forward, five of the seven councillors still voted to move ahead with the project and allocate funding of over $3 million.

I asked the five councillors who voted to allocate the additional money to the Shantz Crossing project (without one lot being sold on the property) what their reasoning was. Not one of them would stand up and answer the question. Some turned away, others looked down and one councillor indicated she had already said enough.

For the two councillors who voted against the motion, my hat's off to you. In the minds of most people it would only seem right that since mayor and council are entrusted with the stewardship of our tax dollars that at least they would publicly give their reasons. I challenge each one of the five who voted in favour to put their reasons in writing and make the answers public.

What I would like to suggest is that each taxpaying resident email each of the five councillors asking why they voted for the motion and what was their reasoning. All the email addresses are posted on the town website under 'town council, mayor and council, council profiles.' Also, you may want to look at the 2011 audited budget which is also posted. You will find that under 'Town Services, Financial Reporting and Budget.' Even if you don't understand numbers, look at the differences between 2010, 2011, and the 2012 budget. There are some very interesting differences.

If you don't get a satisfactory reply, then I suggest that every taxpayer in Didsbury sign the petition. The location of the petition is on the east side of 20th Street, between 21st and 22nd Avenue. I would also suggest that if you have some time, stay around for a while and listen to what other people are saying. Personally I was shocked by some of the comments being made about the town and how it is being run. These were not comments by the individuals gathering names for the petition, but comments from taxpayers who came down to sign the petition.

Show 'n' Shine celebrates best in vehicles and town spirit

BY MADISON SAMUEL-BARCLAY
Review Staff

The 20th Annual Show 'n' Shine is back again for another year on May 12, bringing out some of the best vintage vehicles and souped-up hot rods to Didsbury.

The event, which will start at 9 a.m. and wrap up at 3 p.m. with awards, will be back in its more traditional downtown location outside the train station, as opposed to last year outside the Credit Union.

A few specialty things had been planned for the 20th anniversary, but due to the busy season most were not able to happen for this year.

However, chairman Grant Svendsen predicts some special entertainment for the 25th anniversary, and said that "we put on a good party every year."

Along with the usual judging categories and Mayor's Pick, this year will also see the return of the Business Choice Award.

"Last year we instigated the businesses in town to get more involved," said Svendsen. "Businesses sponsored a trophy for a business choice award, and we'll be doing that again this year. It worked fabulously last year, so we're going to stay with it, it gets everyone involved."

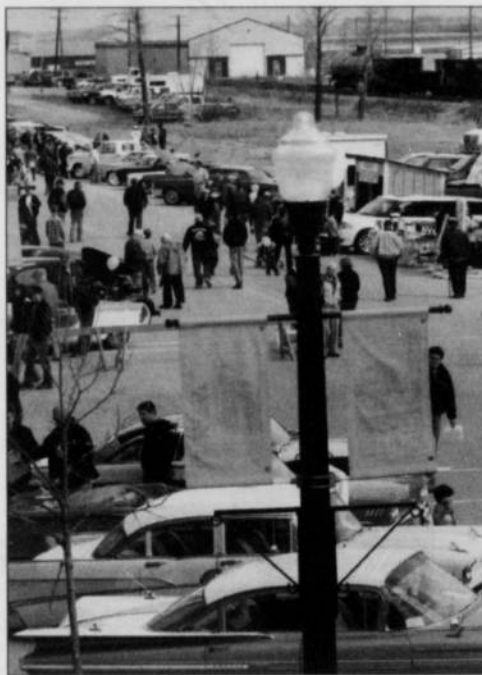

Entrance into the event is by donation, with proceeds going to the Mountain View Food Bank.

"It's how it's always been," said Svendsen. "It goes a long way with the community."

Any additional funds collected at the event will be put back into the community for school groups and other local organizations.

As for why those both new and old to Didsbury should be coming out for this year's show, Svendsen said, "There's something special about this town, it has a good attitude. It's a community with heart, we care about each other and everyone is involved with so many things. When people outside bring in their cars, they feel it too."

"They love coming back, that's the real kick," added

Sylvia Cole/Didsbury Review

Residents and visitors hit the streets to see the 2011 Show 'n' Shine.

Svendsen. "It's almost like a family get-together. We communicate and connect and show it, so many people who come back, when they leave they'll tell us that they'll be back again. That they enjoyed it and had a good time. And that makes us feel good, to hear that."

YOUR RECYCLING DEPOT

The Public Works crew works hard to maintain the recycling depot located at 2602 - 19 Street; however there are some users that take advantage of the recycling center by dumping unacceptable items there. When this happens, the Town must take the items to the landfill resulting in an added cost to you, the taxpayer, in manpower and landfill charges.

For a complete list of acceptable and unacceptable items, please pick up a copy of the Residents Guide to Recycling & Composting available at the Town Office, Public Works office or online at www.didsbury.ca/town/garbage.

TREES AND HEDGES

Overgrown trees and hedges can be a significant safety hazard for pedestrians as well as a sight-line hazard for drivers.

Now that spring is here, we would like to remind residents to trim back any overgrown shrubs and low-hanging tree branches to eliminate these hazards.

Placing Old Age Security on a Sustainable Path

Canadians are living longer and costs for the Old Age Security (OAS) are rising. On April 1, 2023 the Government of Canada plans to start raising the age of eligibility for OAS and the Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS) from 65 to 67.*

What does this mean for you?

54 or older as of March 31, 2012

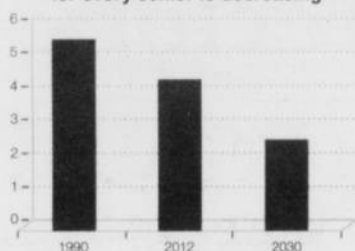

You may still obtain OAS/GIS at age 65

53 or younger as of March 31, 2012

The age of eligibility for OAS/GIS will change gradually between 2023 and 2029

Starting in July 2013, Canadians who are eligible for, but not yet receiving OAS will have the flexibility to delay receiving it in exchange for a higher monthly amount at a later date.

The number of working-age Canadians for every senior is decreasing

Source: 9th Actuarial Report on the Old Age Security Program

The number of working-age Canadians per senior is decreasing, placing additional pressure on the OAS program.

ACREMAN

John Alan Acreman passed away peacefully May 1, 2012 surrounded by his family in Didsbury, Alberta after a brief battle with lung cancer. John was born November 29, 1939 in Victoria, B.C. to parents Bert and Annie Acreman. John's parents were founding pioneers of their hometown of Sooke, B.C. John shared his mother with the entire community as she was declared by the community the "Mother of Sooke" teaching 3 generations of students at Sooke Elementary School, and his father Bert passed on to his son his love of truck driving and "Uncle" Ralph Strong introducing John to the life of farming. He spent most of his life in Sooke, B.C. where he met and married his loving wife, Loretta raising 3 children on a small farm where John was a vital part of the community. Whether coaching hockey, umpiring softball or helping 4-H members, he always had time to help out with any community event or organization. John spent a large part of his working life driving off road trucks, heavy equipment, as well as owner operator of his own trucking company, then retiring from truck driving after many years with Butler Bros. Ready Mix in 1995.

Their passion for farming led them to move north to a ranch in Campbell River, B.C., and after many happy years there they relocated Elk Meadows Ranch to Didsbury, AB. There John was able to continue his passion for farming and raising purebred Red Angus cattle and to be close to his family within central Alberta. John could be seen at many farm and cattle auctions having coffee with old and new friends offering years of wisdom and common sense approach to life issues. John enjoyed many hobbies including his enthusiasm and passion of automotive and metal recycling, often taking him on road trips throughout the rural areas of B.C., Alberta and Saskatchewan. John is survived by his wife of 49 years, Loretta, son Derek (Traci) and granddaughter Kelli, son Lorne (Kathie) and daughter Charlene. A celebration of his life will be held May 30, 2012 at the Royal Canadian Legion Branch # 54 in Sooke, B.C. at 1:30 pm. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Sooke Region Museum, 2070 Phillips Rd., Sooke, B.C. V9Z 1H7. Heartland Funeral Services Ltd. McCULLOCH, Katherine Gay
February 21, 1960 - April 12, 2012

It is with great sadness that the family of Kathy announce her passing on April 12, 2012. She passed away peacefully at home surrounded by her family that loved her deeply.

Kathy grew up on the family farm east of Didsbury. She had a passion for experience and challenge which led her to a wide variety of employment opportunities. She lived and worked in Banff for Mount Norquay and Sulfer Mountain Gondola. She became an expert pot scrubber and potato peeler for Peter Bawden Drilling and worked in many parts of Alberta, B.C., the Yukon, and N.W.T. Upon her return from more travel she started freelance consulting for various travel agencies. She worked in the performing arts in Calgary with Alberta Theatre projects and the Philharmonic Orchestra. Her interests turned to the fashion industry, where she worked for a design Boutique featuring Canadian and especially local designers. Kathy worked behind the scenes in the organization and production of Fashion shows, the Miss. Calgary pageant, photo shoots, the Olympic torch commercial for the 1988 Olympics and wardrobe assistant for two West Sky Movies filmed in Calgary. Kathy had a great sense of adventure that took her to see 53 different countries leaving only the continent of Antarctica unexplored.

It's difficult to think of Kathy's life and not acknowledge the many physical struggles she endured and overcame. The many doctors appointments, hospitals, surgeries and cancer treatments, so it was heartbreaking to realize that this time would be her final battle. She leaves us a Legacy of how to live life with elegance, grace, kindness, confidence, humour and especially love. She was predeceased by her grandparents Jim and Mary McCulloch, Otto and Anna Krebs, her brother Earl and sister-in-law Sonja. She is survived by her loving husband Rick Kelk, parents Jean and Arnold McCulloch, siblings Ruby (Jim) Gole, Barry McCulloch, Steven (Jennifer) McCulloch, Jennifer (Devon) Rabchak. She is also survived by her brother-in-law Brian (Andrea) Kelk, sisters-in-law Susan Matucci and Sandra Hunter. Kathy had an extra special bond with each of her 27 nieces and nephews who will miss her dearly.

A celebration of Kathy's life was held at Zion Evangelical Missionary Church in Didsbury on Sunday April 22, 2012. Interment of her ashes will be in the Didsbury Cemetery at a later date.

110. In Memoriam 110. In Memoriam

In loving memory of
William (Bill) Rigsby
Who passed away May 10, 2007
I WILL NEVER FORGET
The blow was hard, the shock severe;
I never dreamed your death so near
The pain of parting without farewell.
God gave me strength to face his blow,
What it meant losing you, no one will ever know.
To hear your voice, to see your smile,
To sit and talk with you awhile;
To be together in the same old way
Would be my dearest wish today.
But loving memories never die
As years roll on and days go by;
In my hearts a memory is kept
Of the one I love and will never forget.
*Forever loved and Missed
Mom (Isabelle Rigsby)*

In Loving Memory of
William (Bill) Rigsby
Who passed away May 10, 2007
May comes with great regret,
A month that we will never forget.
We hold our tears when we speak your name,
But the ache in our hearts remains the same.
May the winds of love blow gently
And whisper so you can hear,
That we still love and miss you,
And wish that you were here.
*Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by Debbie and Larry Hartmann and family
Teresa and Marvin Kroetsch and family
Brian and Dianne Barlow and family*

In Loving Memory of
Michael Leonard Barr
June 9, 1951 - May 8, 2011
A million times we cried,
If our love alone could save you,
You would of never died.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we love you still,
In our hearts you hold a place,
No one can ever fill.
A light from our household is gone,
A voice from our love is stilled,
A place in our vacant home,
Which never can be filled.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you did not go alone,
A part of us went with you,
The day God called you home.
Your precious memories are for keepsakes,
With which we never part,
God has you safely in his keeping,
But we have you forever in our hearts.
*Forever loved and missed by your family
Sharon, Adam, Mel, Jerome, Patrick, Kristin and Corey.*
